PROMPT ENGINEERING TECHNIQUES

50 INSURANCE AGENCY SPECIFIC PROMPTS

STANDARD

50 AI Prompts to Transform Your Insurance Agency

Standard Playbook Edition

First published by Standard Playbook Inc 2025
Copyright © 2025 by Standard Playbook Inc

How to Use This Guide

Each prompt is written the way you'd ask a smart teammate for help—no tech jargon, no coding terms. Just copy, fill in the brackets `[ ]`, and paste into ChatGPT or any LLM.

Every prompt includes four simple parts:

1. Role – who the AI should imagine it is.
2. Context – the background or data you'll provide.
3. Objective – the outcome you want.
4. Output – the way you'd like the answer formatted.

Feel free to tweak wording or ask follow-up questions. The AI will refine its answers as you go.

Contents (50 Prompts)

1. Prompt Basics (template)

2. Mindset & Leadership (5)
3. Team Culture (5)
4. Sales & Production (6)
5. Client Experience & Retention (5)
6. Finance & Key Numbers (5)
7. Compliance & Risk (5)
8. Marketing & Leads (5)
9. Technology & Automation (5)
10. Personal Growth (5)
11. Productivity & Systems (4)
12. Disclaimer

---

1 Prompt Basics — Quick Template

"You're a [role]. I'll share [context/data]. I need [objective]. Please give it back as [output format]. Ask any clarifying question first if you need it."

Copy that line, swap the brackets for your details, and you've got a ready-made prompt.

---

2 Mindset & Leadership (5 Prompts)

1. Time-Leverage Audit – “You’re a time-efficiency strategist. I’ll paste my weekly calendar for our agency of [team_size]. Show me which 20 % of activities drive 80 % of growth, then suggest three 90-minute blocks I should guard each week. Put it in a table (Block • Day/Time • Purpose • KPI Impact • First Action) followed by a short summary.”

2. Team Rally Speech – “Act as a motivational speechwriter. Using our vision and last year’s KPIs (I’ll paste them), draft a five-minute talk that celebrates three wins, admits three challenges, and fires everyone up to double written premium in the next 12 months. Break it into sections: Intro, Wins, Challenges, Rally Cry, Close.”

3. Clear-Thinking Check – “You’re a decision-science coach. I’m eyeing an agency acquisition—deal summary attached. Point out the mental bias most likely to trip me up and give me three questions to keep my thinking straight. One short paragraph plus the list is perfect.”

4. Four-Minute Stoic Ritual – “Imagine you’re our culture architect. We run a 10-minute morning huddle. Build a four-minute routine based on the Stoic idea of amor fati—include leader lines, team responses, and one reflection question.”

5. Quarterly Leadership Scorecard – “Be a performance-measurement advisor. Our leadership roles are [list] and projects are [list]. Create a one-page scorecard we’ll review quarterly. Give a table with Metric, Definition, Target, Data Source, Review Cadence, Owner, then a quick note on how to roll it out.”

---

3 Team Culture (5 Prompts)

1. Conflict-Resolution Workshop – “You’re an organizational psychologist. I’ll paste anonymous CSR feedback. Design a 90-minute workshop that tackles the friction. Provide a timeline table (Time • Activity • Purpose • Materials) and any tips for the facilitator."

2. Psychological-Safety Pulse – "Act as a survey designer. We have [in-office] in-office staff and [remote] VAs. Write ten Likert-scale questions to measure psychological safety, then explain how to score and interpret the results."

3. Desk & Slack Harmony Plan – "You're a workspace strategist. I'll share our DISC profiles and office map. Recommend who sits where and list three Slack or email norms to cut down on miscommunication."

4. Monday Burnout Check – "Imagine you're our wellbeing analyst. Draft five Monday-morning questions that spot early burnout. Then build a Green/Yellow/Red matrix with the actions we should take at each level."

5. Peer-Recognition Routine – "You're an engagement coach. Insert a 10-minute 'shout-out' segment into our weekly meeting. Provide the exact prompts teammates use, a rotation schedule, and a simple tracking table we can keep in Google Sheets."

---

4 Sales & Production (6 Prompts)

1. Call Review Snapshot – "Act as a sales-call analyst. Here's a transcript and our 3-Act framework. Score each Act from 1-10, list two strengths, three improvement areas, and give one stronger closing line. Deliver a table (Act • Score • Notes) plus the lists."

2. Five-Email Win-Back Series – "You're a retention copywriter. We lost auto-only clients in the past 90 days (avg premium $[amount]) mainly on price. Write five emails under 120 words each that re-frame the value of liability coverage and invite them to quote again. Include subject lines."

3. Umbrella Discovery Script – "Be a consultative selling coach. Using the household details I'll paste, craft a back-and-forth phone script to uncover whether they need an umbrella policy. Use a two-column table: Producer line / Expected client response."

4. One-Week Call Blitz – "You're a gamification strategist. Map out next week's outbound 'blitz': rules, daily dial targets, how we'll keep a leaderboard, and a Friday debrief agenda."

5. Six-Step Cross-Sell Call – "Imagine you're a cross-sell strategist. I want to turn home-only clients into home-and-auto. Write a six-step phone outline with example phrases for handling 'price' objections and smooth transitions."

6. Referral Ask in 90 Seconds – "You're a referral-growth coach. During an end-of-policy review, I want to ask for referrals without sounding pushy. Give me a 90-second script, note three perfect timing cues, and draft the follow-up text I'll send afterward."

---

5 Client Experience & Retention (5 Prompts)

1. First-Year Onboarding Map – "Imagine you're mapping the journey for a new household with home plus two autos. Outline the next 12 months: each touchpoint, three possible churn risks, and what we'll do to keep them. Present a table with Month, Touchpoint, Risk, Mitigation."

2. 90-Character Review Snippets – "You're a friendly copywriter. I'll paste ten Google reviews. Turn each into a punchy 90-character testimonial and suggest where it belongs—email footer, website banner, social post, etc."

3. 60-Second Renewal Voicemail – "Act as a retention caller. Premiums are up about 6 %. Write a warm 60-second voicemail that explains why a renewal review matters, hints at coverage gaps, and invites them to book a call."

4. Two-Minute Liability Video Script – "You're a scriptwriter. Draft a two-minute explainer video that teaches everyday families about liability limits—zero jargon. Provide it in two columns: Spoken line / On-screen text or graphic cue."

5. Claim Follow-Up Checklist – "Be a claims-service advisor. Build a simple checklist for Day 3, Day 10, and Day 30 after a claim. Include what to ask the client, what to confirm with the carrier, and one 'wow' touchpoint to show we care."

---

6 Finance & Key Numbers (5 Prompts)

1. 13-Week Cash-Flow Forecast – "You're a financial analyst. I'll paste premium, commission, loss ratio, and fixed expense data. Create a 13-week cash forecast with low, likely, and best cases, and flag any week we dip below zero."

2. Breakeven Premium Calculator – "Act as a comp strategist. Based on salaries, lead costs, and an average commission of [x %], figure out how much new premium each producer must write monthly to break even. Show how the number shifts if close rate moves up or down by 10 %."

3. One-Page KPI Dashboard Layout – "Imagine you're a dashboard architect. Recommend the layout for a monthly one-pager showing policy count, revenue per employee, client tenure, and any other must-have metrics. Include where the data comes from and who updates it."

4. Expense-Cut Brainstorm – "You're a cost-cutting advisor. I'll share our last 12 months of expenses. Suggest five areas to trim, with an estimated annual savings for each."

5. Producer Bonus Table – "Be an incentive-plan designer. Build an easy-to-read table showing bonus payouts based on premium bands and keeping loss ratio at or below certain thresholds."

---

7 Compliance & Risk (5 Prompts)

1. Annual Compliance Checklist – "You're a compliance officer. For an Indiana P&C agency under $20 million, list every required task and group them by frequency (annual, quarterly, monthly). Add how we prove each task was done and who owns it."

2. Audit Remediation Plan – "Act as a remediation advisor. I'll paste carrier audit findings. Turn each one into a fix: action, owner, due date, proof."

3. E&O Prevention Cheat-Sheets – "You're our E&O consultant. Outline three common personal-lines mistakes that lead to E&O claims, and give a quick checklist to prevent each."

4. 10-Point Data-Privacy Check – "Be a data-privacy auditor. Write a yes/no checklist (10 items) to make sure we're storing and sharing client data securely. Add a quick tip beside any 'No'."

5. License Renewal Tracker – "Imagine you're a licensing coordinator. Create a table that tracks each producer's licenses by state, renewal dates, when reminders go out, and who's responsible."

---

8 Marketing & Leads (5 Prompts)

1. 30-Day Video Content Plan – "You're a content strategist. Build a 30-day short-video calendar that positions me as the go-to advisor for local small-biz insurance. Include Day, Topic, Hook, and CTA."

2. Friendly Compliant Ad Copy – "Act as an ad copy auditor. Here's my Facebook ad and the carrier brand guidelines. Rewrite it for 40-year-old homeowners in a friendly, compliant voice, then bullet the main changes you made."

3. Partner Referral Blueprint – "You're a referral architect. Design a simple program with mortgage brokers and realtors: value proposition, a short referral script, materials we'll supply, and a 30-day rollout timeline."

4. Local Event Booth Checklist – "Be an event-marketing planner. We're hosting a booth at a community fair. List what we need before, during, and after the event: supplies, talking points, lead-capture method, and follow-up steps."

5. Year-Round Blog Calendar – "Imagine you're an SEO blogger. Give me 12 monthly blog post titles about common insurance myths, each with a primary keyword and a suggested call-to-action."

---

9 Technology & Automation (5 Prompts)

1. Call-Tagging Workflow Outline – "You're a workflow architect. We record calls on [name] and use [name] as our CRM. Explain step by step how to tag each recording with the client's account number and store the score back in the CRM. Include a simple data-mapping table."

2. Survey Tool Showdown – "Act as a CX automation analyst. Compare sending surveys through our marketing platform versus our AMS. Put pros/cons in a table, pick a winner, and explain why."

3. Lead Nurture Map by Preference – "You're an automation copywriter. Leads tell us whether they prefer text, email, or phone. Map out a nurture path for each with timing and sample messages."

4. Automatic Text Reminder Plan – "Be a reminder planner. Design a flow that sends a friendly text reminder for renewal reviews: trigger event, message template, timing, and opt-out language."

5. Monthly CRM Cleanup Guide – "Imagine you're a data-hygiene advisor. Provide a checklist we can follow each month to merge duplicates, archive inactive leads, update contact info, and note who's responsible."

---

10 Personal Growth (5 Prompts)

1. Five-Minute Morning Kick-Off – "You're my performance coach. Create a five-minute routine—gratitude breath, one focus question, quick stretch—to start my 6 a.m. day strong. Provide step-by-step with time stamps."

2. Sunday Reflection Sheet – "Act as a reflection facilitator. Draft a one-page template I can fill out each Sunday: wins, lessons, course corrections, and one top focus for next week. Format it in simple markdown."

3. 30-Day Habit Tracker – “Be a habit designer. Build a printable grid to log nightly sleep hours, daily water intake